

15.00 - IV Session - Comparative and World Literatures

Chair: Eleonora Cardinale

Roberto Ludovico, University of Massachusetts Amherst

“Tarde non furon mai grazie divine”. Renato Poggioli and Einaudi publishing house between Pavese and Calvino

Mattia Acetoso, Boston College

Renato Poggioli: An Atlantic Perspective on 20th-Century Italy

Marta Fabrizzi, Independent Researcher

Renato Poggioli: A Fugitive Intellectual and the Birth of “Inventario” through the Correspondence with Luigi Berti (1931-1946)

16.20 - 16.40 - Coffee break

16.40

Chair: Bianca Sulpasso

Giuseppe Ghini, University of Urbino “Carlo Bo”

“Parlami di letteratura...” Renato Poggioli’s Letters to Carlo Bo

Stefano Fumagalli, Catholic University of the Sacred Heart

“Il giornale non d’un soldato, ma del mio io in uniforme”. Preliminary Notes on Renato Poggioli’s “Diaries”

Discussion

18.00

Concluding remarks and closing of the conference: Future Research and New Perspectives on Renato Poggioli

Scientific Committee:

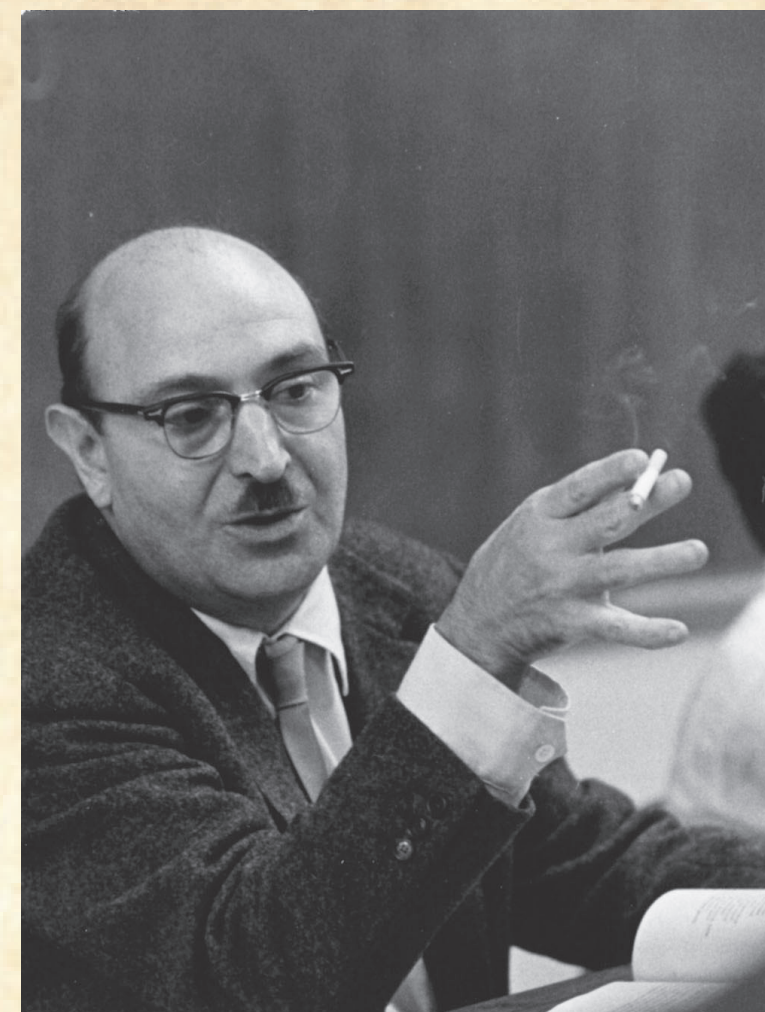

Cesare G. De Michelis, Marina Ciccarini, Cristiano Diddi, Giuseppe Ghini, Bianca Sulpasso

Organizing Committee:

Noemi Albanese, Stefano Fumagalli, Sara Gargano, Giuseppina Larocca, Anna Sokolova

Contacts:

poggioli2023@uniroma2.it

«And then there are those who have wings to fly» Renato Poggioli (1907-1963)

International Conference
December 4-5, 2023
National Central Library of Rome ·
Viale Castro Pretorio 105 - Sala I

Sponsors

DIPARTIMENTO DI STORIA, PATRIMONIO
CULTURALE, FORMAZIONE E SOCIETÀ

In collaboration with

CESARC

PROGRAM

December 4, 2023 - 15.30

Welcoming Speeches

Stefano Campagnolo, Director, National Central Library of Rome

Lucia Ceci, Head of Department of History, Humanities and Society, Tor Vergata University of Rome

Jeffrey Schnapp, Chair, Department of Comparative Literature, Harvard University

Cristiano Diddi, Sapienza University of Rome, President of the Association of Italian Slavists

Sylvia Poggioli, Journalist, Renato Poggioli's daughter

16.00 - Introduction to the Conference

Bianca Sulpasso, Tor Vergata University of Rome

"Renato Poggioli 1963-2023": The Project

16.15 - I Session - Slavic Studies

Chair: Marina Ciccarini

Cesare G. De Michelis, Tor Vergata University of Rome

The Absent Presence of Renato Poggioli within the Field of Slavic Studies in Italy

Stefano Garzonio, University of Pisa

Renato Poggioli and 19th-Century Russian Poetry: Analysis, Interpretation, and Translation

Discussion

17.10 - 17.30 - Coffee break

17.30

Chair: Giuseppe Ghini

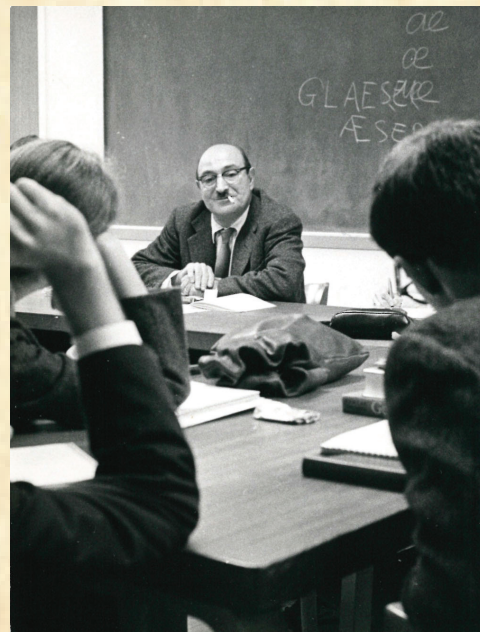

Alessandro Niero, University of Bologna

Poggioli's Metrical Actuality

Cristiano Diddi, Sapienza University of Rome

"Un'impresa da non pigliare a gabbo...": Some Notes on the Edition of Slovo o polku Igoreve by Einaudi

Discussion

December 5, 2023 - 9.00 - II Session - Slavic Studies

Chair: Stefano Garzonio

Justin Weir, Harvard University

Poggioli on Tolstoy and Realism

Giuseppina Larocca, University of Macerata

Renato Poggioli on Ivan Turgenev

Ornella Discacciati, University of Bergamo

Renato Poggioli's Art: Italian Critics and Ivan Bunin

Marina Ciccarini, Tor Vergata University of Rome

"Sciarada, sfinge, medusa": Poggioli and the Utopia of Polish Drama

Discussion

10.40 - 11.00 - Coffee break

11.00 - III Session - Comparative and World Literatures

Chair: Mattia Acetoso

Carla Francellini, University of Siena

Utopia and the Pastoral Ideal in Renato Poggioli's The Oaten Flute

Paolo Bugliani, Tor Vergata University of Rome

Renato Poggioli and the Romantic Roots of Modernist Literature

Flavia Di Battista, Tor Vergata University of Rome

Renato Poggioli and German Literature: The Case of Novalis

Discussion

12.20 - 12.40 - Coffee break

12.40

Chair: Roberto Ludovico

Pedro Luis Ladrón de Guevara Mellado, University of Murcia

Renato Poggioli as a Promoter of Spanish Exile Culture in Italy: Poggioli's Relationship with Jorge Guillén through the Correspondence with his Daughter Teresa

Monica Lucioni, Catholic University of the Sacred Heart, Sorbonne University

"A work in progress that takes its title and cue from l'automne des idées": Renato Poggioli and the French Décadence

Discussion

